Weekly Learning Update

Rainbows – This week the rainbows have been learning how to care for babies. Feeding, bathing and sleeping are some of the topics that the rainbows have shown an interest in this week.

Buttercups – This week the buttercups have been learning about astronauts. They have looked at what they wear and what they do in when in space.

Blossoms – This week the blossoms had a look at bees after finding one in the garden. They looked at the bee closely and learned about the body parts.

Next Week

Rainbows – This week the Rainbows will be looking at weighing babies and starting to explore the role of the midwife.

Buttercups – The buttercups will be looking at space rockets. They will start to look at gravity and discuss weight.

Blossoms – Start to look at dinosaur eggs. Exploring weight, shape and pattern.

Goodbye Mr. Edwards

We would like to wish Mr Edwards well with his move to Glasgow as he starts his new and exciting chapter of his life. Mr Edwards has been an extremely valuable member of our staff team for just over 4 years and we will be extremely sad when he leaves us. Mr Edwards' last day with us will be Thursday 1st April.

Twinkle Twinkle Little Star

Well done to Lucia this week. She has worked super hard this week to learn all about money! She has worked on recognising coins and recognising pounds and pence.

WELL DONE!!
